Test case 0020: FAILED

Test if the paper review due date can be empty.

Test case 0021: FAILED

Test if the paper review due date can be a past date.

Test case 0022: FAILED

Test if the paper review due date can include alphabetic characters.

Test case 0023: FAILED

Test if the paper review due date can include special characters.

Test case 0024: FAILED

Test if the paper review due date is of of Australian date format.

We didn't implement this attribute. As mentioned by Agnes Haryanto in this thread, we should mention this situation in the Test Document and leave this section blank.

But the test of this attribute is similar to the previous one, so we will fix the bugs and implement this attribute later.

Test case 0025: FAILED

Test if the list of papers submitted can be a string.

Test case 0026: FAILED

Test if the list of papers submitted can be a dictionary.

Test case 0027: FAILED

Test if the list of papers submitted can be a list.

Test case 0028: PASSED

Test if the list of papers submitted can have 0 object.

We didn't implement this attribute in Creating A Conference. But we do have this attribute in our Conference class, and the default of this attribute is empty. So, when the conference is just created and there is no paper submitted to the conference, the Conference Report will be like below:

daje, ds, Cybersecurity, 2022, 10, 12, jb@monash.edu|

Conference name: daje
Conference title: ds
Conference topics: Cybersecurity
Paper submit deadline: 2022-10-12 00:00:00
Conference chair: jb@monash.edu
Accepted paper: 0

If a few papers have been submitted for the conference, the Conference Report will be like below:

daje, ds, Cybersecurity, 2022, 10, 12, jb@monash.edu, Paper1, Paper2, Paper3

Conference name: daje
Conference title: ds
Conference topics: Cybersecurity
Paper submit deadline: 2022-10-12 00:00:00
Conference chair: jb@monash.edu
Accepted paper: 3
Paper1
Paper2
Paper3

Result

The correct input will create a new conference in our database with 0 paper submitted.

daje, ds, Cybersecurity, 2022, 10, 12, jb@monash.edu
